

Do you want to become more involved in your cricket club by either learning a new skill or improving your scoring skills

On Saturday 29th March 2025
from 9.30am - 12.30pm

There will be a Linear Scoring Course
at Oxford Downs Cricket Club - OX29 7QH

Linear scoring is a written form of cricket scoring using a different layout to the familiar Box style scoresheet. It is used to support cricket media as the layout shows a timeline of the innings and it can also be used as a manual backup when scoring electronically.

To attend this course, you must be a competent Box style or electronic scorer already, as this session does not include any Laws of Cricket or scoring basics but takes your existing skills and transfers them to a linear style scoresheet. During the course, you will be doing some linear scoring from a video of a game, so please bring your own pens/pencils.

Linear scoresheets will be provided but if you have one of your own that you want to try out, please bring a paper copy of it with you.

You do not need to be a member of the ECB ACO to attend this course
